Article V. Players Divisions and Seasons

This League will be split into five different divisions. Divisions will be set by age only. For purposes of determining the appropriate age division, a player must be within the age divisions by April 30th of the current baseball season.

At the specific request of their parent or legal guardian, players will be allowed to play up no more then one age division. Such request does not require prior approval.

Unless there is a compelling and documented reason, players will not be allowed to play down an age division. Any requests to play down an age division are subject to review and approval by both of the appropriate the age bracket commissioners. Such approval must be documented for liability purposes.

The age divisions are as follows:

T-Ball and Clinic	Rookie
Ages 7-8	Single A
Ages 9-10	Double A

Ages 11-12	Triple A
Ages 13-15	Major

There are two separate and distinct seasons within the EBP. Players will be required to register for each season separately.

The first season will be known as the Spring Season and will begin no earlier than April 1st and run until the middle of June. Players will be required to play in the respective age divisions as noted above.

The second season will be known as the Fall Season and will begin no earlier than August 1st. In the Fall Season, players will be required to play in the age division they would normally play in the following Spring Season.

Article VI Colors
